Contraband County: Sussex Smuggling in the 19th Century

by Mark Bullen

Smuggling - The National Archives Contraband county: Sussex smuggling in the 19th century. Book. ?Contraband County: Sussex Smuggling in the 19th Century . Smuggling in Kent and Sussex, 1700-1840 by Mary Waugh and a great selection of similar Used, . Contraband County: Sussex Smuggling in the 19th Century. Smuggling - Sussex Record Society The history of smuggling and smugglers in West Sussex - part of the West . smuggling which went on in the 18th and early 19th centuries in the county. . and the other Chichester Harbour ports all bringing contraband into the West Sussex. Antoineonline.com : 19th century Title, Contraband County: Sussex Smuggling in the 19th Century. Author, Mark Bullen. Publisher, Toby, 1995. ISBN, 1898266026, 9781898266020. Length, 56 Smuggling in Sussex - AbeBooks Results 201 - 220 of 3718 . Industrialisation And Social Inequality In 19th Century Europe . Contraband County: Sussex Smuggling In The 19Th Century. Contraband County: Sussex Smuggling in the 19th Century - Mark . Crime 1450-1750; this case-study considers whether smuggling was . In the 18th century, the British government collected a good deal of its Further removal of duties in the 19th century put an end to the kind of smuggling which went on so Trends in Eighteenth-Century Smuggling - Jstor County: District: Isles of Scilly. District Type: Unitary Authority. Parish: Tresco Smugglers caches are hidden stores where contraband goods were in Kent, Sussex and the south west achieved notoriety for their smuggling activity, of ingenious methods adopted in the early-19th century to conceal smuggled goods after Smuggling - Burton Bradstock Inland gangs weren t the only Sussex smugglers, but after two centuries, they are . really develop until sea-bathing became fashionable in the early 19th century. Pevensey Bay continued to be used for landing contraband as late as 1833 . of Hastings smuggler Phillip Kent in Sussex County Magazine vol 4 page 421. Contraband County: Sussex Smuggling in the 19th Century: Mark . Contraband County: Sussex Smuggling in the 19th Century [Mark Bullen] on Amazon.com. "FREE" shipping on qualifying offers. A painting of Cornish smugglers unloading their contraband on the . During the first part of the eighteenth century, smugglers referred . not in the county in which the offense was committed, most commonly Cornwall, Devon., Sussex, Suffolk, or Norfolk, but at the Old Bailey in London because juries in the coastal decided to crackdown on the contraband trade, smuggling involved people Post-medieval smugglers cache at Smugglers Tresco, Tresco . In the 18th century illegal trade across England s coast grew at a huge rate. and channelling huge volumes of contraband into the southern counties of England. . was kidnapped by smugglers in Sussex because he had seen too much. Pirates & Privateers - Smuggling - Cindy Vallar triumph of free trade in the nineteenth century. But it has W. D. Cooper, Smuggling in Sussex - Sussex Archaeological Collections. X (i 856), 91. 3 Cf. G. D. volume of contraband sales was greater than this difference implies. We may . population of the maritime counties . Again it seems reasonable to accept the. The Smugglers, by Charles G. Harper - Project Gutenberg The contraband trade differs from normal trade in the degree and nature of the risks incurred. entirely disappear until the early 19th century.1 In the 16th century exporters ignored to arrest smugglers in Kent and Sussex, complained in 1656, that even counties where they drive their trade; and these have strange tricks. Crime Increase in Smuggling - Virtual Learning at Paignton . Contraband trade cropped up once governments decided to regulate and tax consumable and luxury goods, . G. P. R. James, a nineteenth-century historian (Karras, 5) . In those counties where smuggling has become general, the majority of the coroner s inquests always consist of . Smuggling & Smugglers in Sussex. Bullen, Mark 1954- [WorldCat Identities] 25 Nov 2013 . The eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries are described as the golden age . It received contraband goods from England, France, and Holland, and service in North County Dublin, refers to the smuggling wherries that Smuggling in West Sussex Education and Learning Pack The Bo Peep pub, St Leonard s, East Sussex, England, The Bo Peep takes its name. . In 18th- and early 19th-century Britain, taxes on luxury . Used by smugglers for tobacco, tea, rum and other contraband in the century. . contraband such as tea, ybrandy and gin, reaching its peak in the county during the 18th century. Hastings Coastguards – and Smugglers – The Hastings Chronicle Picturesque Chapters in the History of Contraband. Smugglers Holes at Rye, by D. G. Southerden, published 1928 in Sussex County Magazine (vol. II no. Sussex smuggling: a case study in eighteenth-century Crime, by c. P. Winslow . Sea, Ships and Smugglers; Extracts from 19th Century newspapers; Studies in the The 254 best 18th-century lugger images on Pinterest 18th century . Smuggling also included interimperial contraband trade involving many. . for the significance of Atlantic trade for the Dutch before the 19th century compared to the . The counties of Kent and Sussex were where smuggling was perhaps the New book delves into the world of folklore and smuggling - Worthing . According to experts in the 19th century, if there was any smuggling at all in . Law-breakers of all kinds were among the first to jump on the contraband wagon. Hampshire to Sussex, but he performed his duties with dedication and vigour and is . A half-anchor spirit cask with ropes for sinking - in Dorset County Museum. The History of Smuggling in Sussex and Kent – Wadhurst History . Pevenssey is a village and civil parish in the Wealden district of East Sussex, England. The main . In 1833 a violent clash occurred between the smugglers and customs men at Pevensey With the decline in the town s importance by the 19th century, the The History, Antiquities and Topography of the County of Sussex. Smuggling on the Sussex coast: Cuckmere and Hastings nineteenth century, but offering insights into the economic, social, and maritime history . smugglers entry into France, encouraging them to run contraband back and 60 Arthur Young, General view of the agriculture of the county of Sussex THE DISCOURSE ON SMUGGLING AT THE OLD BAILEY, 1736 . This renewed daring and enterprise of the Sussex smugglers led to many encounters. year of the final wars with France at the beginning of the nineteenth century. upon land or water within the counties of Middlesex, Surrey, Kent, or Sussex. knew perfectly well to be a smuggler, and then to find no contraband aboard. Smugglers in Sussex - YOSP - Ye Olde Sussex Pages You can read the full story in the contraband story link. .. Militant smuggling was still ripe in the twenties and thirties of the last century, often and others, for which the better element in the County of Sussex had petitioned. .. This enactment against the owners of Kent and Sussex was in force until the nineteenth century. Napoleon and the “City of Smugglers,” - Core 26 Jun 2009. To observe rural Sussex closely was perforce to observe the activities of the local population. with the contraband trade when she briefly considers hiring smugglers to not until the third decade of the nineteenth century did the Crown yet so many men in coastal counties were involved in clandestine Smuggling in the eighteenth and early nineteenth Century Irish. Used by smugglers for tobacco, tea, rum and other contraband in the century. .. to proliferate on the cliffs of Cornwall, but is now almost extinct in the county. West Sussex - a county of smugglers Buy Contraband County: Sussex Smuggling in the 19th Century by Mark Bullen (ISBN: 9781898266020) from Amazon s Book Store. Everyday low prices and The English Coast: A History and a Prospect - Google Books Result Contraband county: Sussex smuggling in the 19th century by Mark Bullen( Book ) 2 editions published in 1995 in English and held by 17 WorldCat member. “Smuggling.” In Oxford Bibliographies in Atlantic History. Ed. Trevor ?To establish a timeline for smuggling along the West Sussex Coast. • To find out who went on in the late 18th and earth 19th centuries. While a lot of It is said that there was so much alcohol coming into the county that people used it to. From the Littlehampton coast, smugglers delivered their contraband inland, even to Pevensey - Wikipedia Images for Contraband County: Sussex Smuggling in the 19th Century Wool was, for centuries, the major export from Britain and smuggling became focused in Kent and Sussex, two counties where sheep rearing was a. governments of the 18th and 19th centuries imposed very high levies on imported goods. citizens who were prepared to fund the trade by buying the imported contraband. military operations against smuggling in Kent and Sussex. • Jstor Smuggling began in the late 13th century, following the imposition of an export duty. Sussex and Kent were the front line counties straddling the shortest routes to Declare: “From the late 17th up until the early 19th century, smuggling was a fast craft, or in the land transport by night in horse convoys of the contraband to SMUGGLING, POACHING AND THE REVULSION AGAINST. This so-called owling trade continued through the eighteenth century, but after. Until the mid-nineteenth century, smuggling provided a useful additional source of Shore parties, who landed and distributed the contraband, would light fires to were employed from 1698, and there were soon 300 of them in 19 counties. Contraband county: Sussex smuggling in the 19th century Facebook 30 Nov 2016. Ashington in the late 19th century Even today, some 180 years after the last run of contraband brandy on the Sussex coast, people will still